BULLET settled in stalking mid-division outside, advanced willingly and in hand about four wide late on the turn swiftly taking charge by the three-sixteenths, was asked nearing the furlong grounds and readily responded to draw clear and was given just some reminders through the lane to win impressively. SOUPERGIRL settled inside off the pace, switched out on the turn, moved five wide coming near the quarter pole, was no match for the winner but secured the place late. CARLISLE BAY broke sharply, attended the pace from outside, was carried out a bit by insiders early on the turn racing about four to five wide into that bend, took command and swiftly shot clear past the three-eighths and shifted in a bit at this stage, was challenged by the eventual winner at the top of the stretch and put to stout urging at that juncture, was no match for that one but held show honors. AMBITIOUS LASS veered outwardly at the start, angled in early settling at the rear near the inside, fanned eight wide turning for home, kept on widest of all but needed more. OBLIGING exchanged a light bump at the start, moved forward between foes to contest the pace between, raced mostly two to four wide throughout, dropped back off the leader from the three-eighths, ran on evenly in the stretch. BOUND TO BE TRUE exchanged a light bump at the start, was up close amongst the early leaders before being taken back off a trio nearing the half, stalked in behind about three wide on the turn, checked just about at the five-sixteenths, kept on in the stretch but was left with too much to do. WILL OW OAK was in tight and shuffled back not too long after the start, raced outside a foe at the rear, was carried seven wide into upper stretch by that one and ran on without threatening. LITHICA contested the pace inside, appeared to be getting out early on the turn, steadied past the three-eighths pole rapidly dropping back off the lead, continued to weaken thereafter. YOU NEED ME was mid-pack early, ridden along nearing the three-eighths but had no response and rapidly dropped back to last.
