MISHEGAS tracked the leaders four wide around the first turn, moved readily to challenge for command outside EL KURDO after six furlongs, began to edge away from that one around the far turn, was roused sharply to draw well clear through upper stretch, and was geared down the last 70 yards. EL KURDO pressed the pace outside WILDCAT WISH three wide on the first turn, bid between horses to poke a head in front after six furlongs, could not go with MISHEGAS late on the far turn and into upper stretch, but kept on with good courage to salvage second. GOING STRONG saved ground early within range, lost ground moving out through the far turn, entered the stretch in the four-path and ran on evenly. TRINCHETO (ARG) trailed early toward the inside, advanced outside EL KURDO to briefly get even with that one near the quarter-pole, but flattened out soon after turning for home. WILDCAT WISH set a moderate early pace toward the inside, and yielded after being overhauled by the first two finishers heading into the far turn.
