DURKIN'S CALL at a considerable distance off the inside throughout, took up the chase three wide on the turn, flashed interest as three-quarters was being completed, had made his way into the furlong grounds when asked for a response, gave it readily to take over shortly afterwards, drew off convincingly in the final furlong. KOSCIUSZKO retained the advantage after out-breaking the others, got set up a slight distance from off the rail, threw down an ambitious second split by picking up the tempo nearly a handful of ticks, continued to sail along, rating kindly on an open lead and sensing no pressure of any sort until the very last strides of the run around the bend, struck the quarter pole just as DURKIN'S CALL was in the first stages of launching what turned out to a winning move, was set down in the general area of the three-sixteenths pole, with the top one following suit several jumps later, proved no match, managed to keep going well enough long enough to save second. PIPES stalked the pace from path two, was put to a strong drive midway on the turn, angled out into path four for clearance during the early stages of the stretch run, clawed his way towards KOSCIUSZKO, missed out on the place. KADENS COURAGE spotted along the inside route after the start, pulled forcefully on the bit to the five-sixteenths pole, ceased doing so when asked to pick it up springing from that station, commenced the stretch approximately three wide, had no rally.
